About WaterScience

Founded in 2014, WaterScience puts cutting-edge science, technology, and research to work to ensure you get the best quality water possible for your family.

Our products are designed to prevent contaminants before they can come in contact with your body. We take pride in knowing that our products protect over 700,000 families from harmful contaminants in water and help them embrace better, healthier hair and skin.

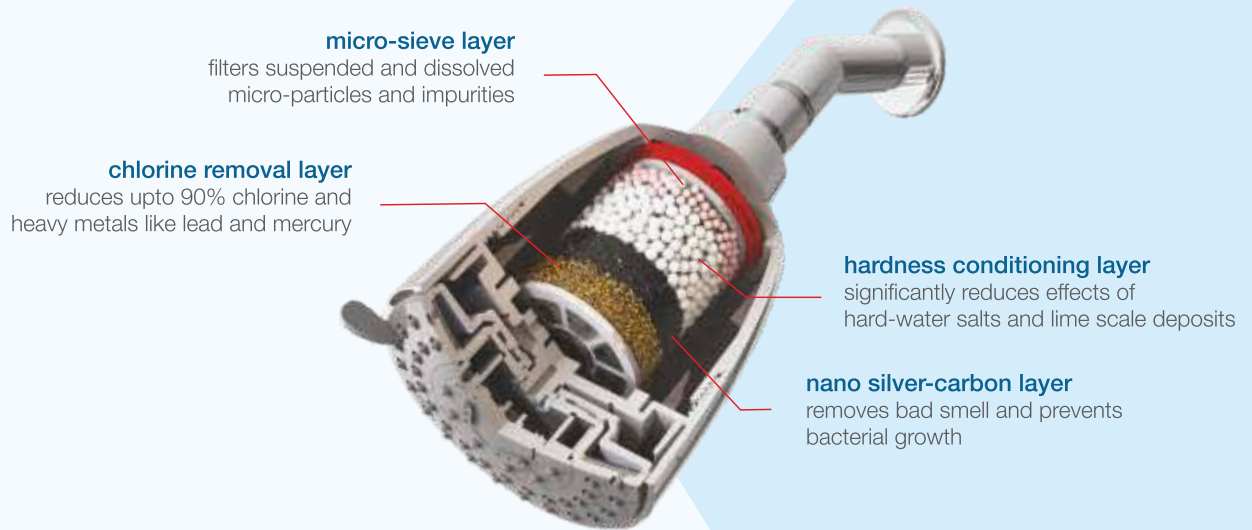

At WaterScience, quality, affordability, and convenience are key focus areas when it comes to product design. Our products are compatible with all standard plumbing fixtures and are designed for easy installation and maintenance without needing a plumber or technician. An installation kit with tools and adaptors is a part of almost all our products.

For us, you come first. We have very easy return, replacement & warranty terms, and our network of sales and service technicians are always available to help you out.

We look forward to welcoming you to the WaterScience family!
